

IMAGINE PAKISTAN 2030: CHALLENGES, OPPORTUNITIES, AND THE WAY FORWARD

The University of Faisalabad hosted a thought-provoking and insightful awareness session under the nationwide campaign initiated by the Association of Private Sector Universities of Pakistan (APSUP) themed “Imagine Pakistan 2030: Challenges, Opportunities, and the Way Forward”.

The event was graced by Mian Amer Mahmood, Chairman Punjab Group, as the Chief Guest, along with Prof Dr Chaudhry Abdul Rehman, Chairman APSUP and Prof Sohail Afzal, Executive Director Punjab Group, as Guests of Honour.

In his keynote address, Mian Amer Mahmood underscored the pivotal role of youth in reshaping the future of Pakistan, urging them to act as social warriors capable of transforming public opinion and driving positive change. He stressed that strengthening governance at both provincial and local levels is essential, with the creation of 33 provinces being a fundamental requirement for balanced development.

Prof Dr Chaudhry Abdul Rehman, commended the efforts of The University of Faisalabad and APSUP in organizing such an impactful session. He expressed his gratitude to Mian Amer Mahmood and Mr Muhammad Haider Amin, Chairman BOG, TUF for their vision in providing students with meaningful insights on governance and policy reforms. Mr Haider Amin thanked the distinguished guests and appreciated their valuable insights. Addressing students, he urged them to take ownership of Pakistan's future: "Each one of you has a responsibility towards your community and your country. Advocate for transparency, demand accountability, and lead with integrity." Students of TUF actively participated in Q&A session, making the dialogue more engaging and impactful. They raised thought-provoking questions related to good governance, transparency, rule of law, accountability and sustainable development, which were addressed comprehensively by Mian Amer Mahmood. As part of TUF's 'Go Green' initiative, the guests planted saplings in the university lawn.

3-DAY INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP on Coordinative Locomotor Training (CLT) Accelerated Clinical Learning Series

The Department of Rehabilitation Sciences, TUF, proudly inaugurated the International Workshop on Coordinative Locomotor Training (CLT), held from 19th to 21st September 2025. This 3-day workshop, part of the Accelerated Clinical Learning Series by distinguished International Experts from South Korea included Prof Dr Moon-Kyu Lee, Associate Professor, Chosun University, Ms Hye-Ryoung Park, CEO, The Lab Friends Pilates Lab, Ms Ae-Ji Kim, Director of Research, Korea PNF Association, Namal Zafar, Interpreter from Korean Embassy.

In her welcome address, Dr Marium Zafar, Head, Department of Rehabilitation Sciences, highlighted the importance of global knowledge exchange and evidence-based practices in advancing rehabilitation sciences. Prof Dr Aman Ullah Malik, Rector, TUF, delivered the keynote address, underscoring the significance of international collaboration and innovation in patient-centered care. Prof Dr Zahir Ahmad Zahir, Director ORIC, TUF, shared his insightful remarks on the role of advanced rehabilitation techniques like CLT in improving clinical outcomes and shaping the future of healthcare.

The first day of the workshop laid the foundational understanding of CLT, covering its theoretical framework, core principles, and relevance in the context of neuromotor control and rehabilitation.

As the sessions progressed into the second day, participants delved into the functional synergies central to CLT—namely the Sprinter and Skater patterns—through interactive lectures and guided hands-on training. Clinical case discussions further helped contextualize these synergies, bridging the gap between theory and real-world application.

The final day focused on integrating these learned synergies into individualized rehabilitation programs, emphasizing practical execution and personalized planning. Participants engaged in group discussions to solidify their understanding and reflect on clinical applications. As a thoughtful gesture, all the participants were given CLX TheraBands as a gift by our delegates, supporting their continued learning and practical implementation of the techniques discussed.

Additionally, the event fostered a spirit of inter-professional collaboration, encouraging the exchange of best practices among rehabilitation professionals. The training contributed significantly to several Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), including Good Health and Well-Being, Quality Education, Reduced Inequalities, and Partnerships for the Goals.

International experts expressed their delight in visiting Pakistan, praising the hospitality and enriching academic environment of The University of Faisalabad. In recognition of their valuable input and collaboration, commemorative shields were also presented to the distinguished international guests.

M.SAAD ANEES
Bachelor of Business Administration (2023)
The University of Faisalabad

From a young age, I dreamed of becoming an entrepreneur. During my BBA studies at TUF, I gained valuable practical experience by assisting as a managing director in my father's business, the SpaceWay Group of Companies, where I was entrusted with overseeing Pakistan-level operations. After graduating in 2023, I founded VauntBlack Foods Pvt. Ltd., under which multiple brands now operate, including Pure and Greenroots.pk. These brands focus on delivering health-oriented, premium-quality products to the modern consumer.

My journey from a business student to a business leader is a testament to the strong educational and ethical foundation laid by The University of Faisalabad. I am proud to carry this legacy forward and hope to inspire students to lead with courage, integrity, and excellence.

I firmly believe that even the smallest spark for business should be nurtured. Business is not only a path to financial independence but also a means to create impact, generate employment, and drive innovation.
Dream big. Work hard. Stay humble. And never forget your roots
